

-Benjamine Yarbrough-

The man behind the "Casino Pirate" persona... and the author of "Linear Fractal Mathematics".

Besides your High School Math/Statistics Teachers, Who Says “YOU CAN’T BEAT THE CASINO”?

My name is Ben Yarbrough and I, for years, have been considered the most accomplished trainer of top-tier professionally minded gamblers in the World. I've written a number of books on gambling smarter and a mathematics book on a new discipline called "Linear Fractal Mathematics". I've had newspaper and magazine articles written about me. I've had my training endorsed by top gamblers and even the foremost creator of casino table games living today --“Richard Lofink”. In spite of all this, it is likely that you have never heard of me.

It further, is a safe bet that most casino managers would prefer that NO-ONE had ever heard of me, or my book on the use of Linear Fractals to predict random events, or my highly effective self-discipline training. I imagine they further wish that those who had heard of me, only thought of me as a “fool”-- I mean really, “EVERYONE KNOWS YOU CAN’T BEAT THE CASINO” and certainly NO ONE can teach you how to predict “random events”, they are, after all, RANDOM.. (And if people were meant to fly, they would have been given wings!)

However, since I do exist and since my list of high stakes player endorsements indicate that I have taught students to become regular winners, it is hard for them to sell the “fool” label to anyone but those who are completely “clueless” about advances being introduced to this field-- (Primarily by me).

It is fair to say that the casino industry generally takes a dim view of my activities and they have from time to time sent out propagandizing individuals (often casino industry hired “math consultants”—like the “Wizard of Odds”) to smear the activities of anyone who professes that they can help ANYONE “gambler better”...

This has happened because most members of casino management teams are SCARED and don’t really understand how smart marketing works today. The fact is that through networking, “winners” demonstrate the casino’s best possible form of advertising by telling their friends where they played and won. Note that because their equally financially endowed friends have not undergone the thorough training that my “lucky” students have, when the “lucky gambling student’s” circle of friends do come to the casino, they will very likely not make the “good decisions” that their lucky friend did, and will likely be regular and LARGE losers. Hence, when the casino “runs off” or poorly treats the winning player, they at the same time kill the possibility of the winning player’s circle of wealthy friends coming to play at their casino. This is significant because, although only representing 3% of the casino’s foot traffic, this group of “high-end players” normally generate as much as 30%+ of the casino’s bottom line profits.

Back to the two basic components that I teach my “High End students”:

(1) I Train High Stakes casino players to think & play like “Casino Pirates” who are not embarrassed about ruthlessly taking money from the casnos (not just winning it, but leaving the property with it). Yes taking Won money from the same Casino executives that would gladly enjoy seeing the heads and wallets of all top level players who challenge them, mounted in their trophy room.

This training entails educating and preparing the serious minded gambler to do battle with the extremely effective system of player manipulation that all casinos use-- that system accomplishes GREATLY magnifying their edge over the TOURIST-MINDED gambler.

(2) So, in addition to teaching the gambler to “duck, bob, and weave” when engaging the casino, I also introduce them to the knowledge revealed about predicting “random events”. Knowledge revealed through coming to understand how use of “Linear Fractals” can give one a real edge in the financial battles taking place every day in the casino.

I do not undertake the training of many players and those I train pay a fair price for the information and training I provide. Through maintaining this exclusivity, I have maximized the time window of opportunity for serious gamblers to make money in the casino using these tools. (You’re Welcome!)

So, even though you probably haven’t heard of me before, you now have some fundamental facts about me and what it is that I do and for many years have done for High Stakes casino players.

My primary training website address is BaccaratTraining.com and I can be reached by both email (info @ BaccaraatTraining.com) and by phone (706) 505-2901 at my engineering company (Aztec Engineering, LLP)--leave your name and number!-- I will get back to you. Please take a few minutes to visit our website before calling so that you are familiar with prices, etc.

Good Health and GREAT LUCK!
